

- Lighting Lanterns -

*In the Footsteps of Nano Nagle
A Self-directed Pilgrimage*

*When the work of the schools was over she turned her steps to the lanes and alleys to bring comfort to the poor, the aged and infirm.
It was said of her that there was not a garret in Cork that she had not visited.*

T.J. Walsh

Contents

Pilgrimage

An introduction - Our Journey

Some Branches on the Family Tree - the Founding Houses and some Dublin Connections

Glendalough - a Place of Pilgrimage

Ballygriffin - Birthplace of Nano

Ballygriffin - Cosmic Walk
(explanatory booklet available at Nagle Centre)

Ballygriffin - and its Nagle Connections

The Cork of Nano

Retrospect

Some Useful Contacts

References:

Emer Madigan: 'There Came A Light: Women and the Church Pilgrimage 2009'

Michael Rogers: Glendalough: A Pilgrim's Way

Michael Rogers: Glendalough: A Celtic Soul Journey

Presentation Sisters: Guides to Nano's Cork

Glendalough Monastic History Co Wicklow www.glendalough.connect.ie/pages

Glendalough Monastic Site www.megalithicireland.com/Glendalough

Almis Simans: What was the medieval Pilgrim's motivation and gear?

www.travelsignposts.com

Wendy Craig: The Compostela Pilgrimage: the Welfare of Pilgrims

<http://suite101.com>